WITNESS

Our lives are changed when we walk with Jesus. The early disciples knew this very well. Day after day, their lives were transformed as they saw the sick healed and the dead raised. After all they'd seen, nobody had to coerce them into telling others about it. Evangelism for them wasn't forced; it was natural. It started with seeing Jesus and telling others about what they had seen. They were witnesses. Being a witness is a process that begins with seeing Jesus and the work he has done in our lives. Then, we get the opportunity to see our neighbors. This process then turns into us talking to Jesus and telling him about our neighbors in the place of prayer. Over time, there comes a moment when we are given the opportunity to tell our neighbors about Jesus and who he is in our lives. This isn't just one conversation but numerous interactions over time. We call this process See and Tell.

There are enough believers in the world that we would reach the entire world if every Christian shared Jesus with three people. Of course, it's not that simple. But it does mean it's not out of reach. Sharing the love of Jesus with our neighbors begins with knowing their names, understanding their circumstances, praying for them, meeting their needs, and offering hope. This is our calling as followers of Jesus — sharing a message of love that meets our neighbors right where they are. It starts with us. Let's be a witness to our world.

See Jesus

Being a witness begins with our encounters with Jesus. Before we can see ourselves, those around us, or our world, we must have our eyes opened by the love of Jesus. We cannot carry a love we are not deeply, consistently, and intentionally experiencing for ourselves. Seeing Christ's love draws us into wholeness, fills us with hope, and opens our eyes to the people around us.

See Your Neighbors

Loving our neighbors starts with seeing our neighbors. We can't love someone without first having a genuine interest and care for their life. We should enter every conversation knowing that everyone has broken and hurting parts of their lives. Loving our neighbors is about seeing Tell Jesus about Your Neighbors.

Tell Jesus about Your Neighbors

Tell Jesus that you want to see your neighbors through his eyes. Pray for them and the things they are going through. Tell Jesus that you want to carry his heart for your neighbors.

Tell Your Neighbors about Jesus

When the time is right, tell your neighbors about Jesus in a personal way. It should not be confrontational, nor should it lead to conflict. Our role is to bring peace into people's lives and situations. We are not sharing Jesus with our neighbors to win an argument or to have them say a prayer of salvation. Our primary task is to help people see Jesus. A simple glimpse will often leave people wanting to pursue him more.

Only God can move the heart of people. Our role is to sow the seed. God's role is to bring the harvest.

INTRODUCTION

by Orlando Lara

In the book of Deuteronomy, we find a profound call to fear God, walk in obedience, love him wholeheartedly, and serve him faithfully. These principles form the basis of our Christian walk and invite us to share our faith with those around us. Through these sessions, we embark on an inspiring and transformative journey rooted in Deuteronomy 10:12. Let us heed God's invitation to share our faith with our neighbors, classmates, co-workers, and family members, reflecting God's love in our words and actions.

Deuteronomy 10:12 sums up the core of our call: "And now, Israel, what does the Lord your God ask of you but to fear the Lord your God, to walk in obedience to him, to love him, to serve the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul."

Let's see the requirements that the Lord asked of the people of Israel and that he now demands of us: fear, obedience, love and service. Let's try to see them as a stairway, which, when you climb them, you can only go to the next stair if you step on the previous one.

Fearing God is not about trembling with terror, but about acknowledging His awesome majesty and holiness, which shapes our reverence and obedience.

Walking in obedience to God's commandments is an outpouring of our fear of God. As we submit to His will and align our lives with His Word, we demonstrate our reverence and trust in His wisdom and guidance. Obedience becomes the natural response of a heart captivated by God's love and transformed by his grace.

Love is at the center of our Christian faith. God's love for us is limitless, and as we grow in our love for Him, we are compelled to love others. Sharing our faith is an expression of this love, as we want others to experience the transforming power of God's grace and salvation. Love motivates us to bridge gaps, extend compassion, and meet the needs of those around us.

Service is an integral component of our Christian walk. By serving others, we reflect the selfless love of Christ. Our acts of service become tangible expressions of our faith, offering glimpses of God's character and drawing others closer to Him. Through service, we demonstrate God's love in practical and impactful ways, making a lasting difference in the lives of our neighbors, classmates, co-workers and family members.

As we embark on this series of Bible studies, let us embrace the principles of fear of God, obedience, love, and service. May our reverence for God, our obedience to His commandments, our love for Him, and our service to others reflect the transforming work of His grace in our lives. With fire in our hearts, let us press on, inviting others to the abundant life found in Jesus Christ, knowing that by sharing our faith, we participate in God's redemptive plan for humanity.
